

Mental Health Awareness Month
Spotlight on a Recent Graduate: Sydney Saunders

Sydney Saunders

“I am proud to be a part of a profession that is easily accessible for patients with mental illness. Pharmacists are well equipped to counsel patients on their medications and help them manage adverse effects.”

Sydney Saunders is a graduate of MUN’s School of Pharmacy, Class of 2017.

Read about Sydney’s experience with mental illness and how it is making her a more compassionate pharmacist.

<https://gazette.mun.ca/student-life/healing-of-the-mind/>

